DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on September 15, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1, 3-5, 16-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

4. Claims state Rs may be dialkylsiloxane radicals, wherein the radicals are defined by a repeat unit, without defining the terminal group of the radical. See claim 1, 25 and 32. The claims are indefinite as to the structures of the dialkylsiloxane radical, particularly, the terminal group.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1617

2. Claims 1, 3-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sartori (of record).

3. Sartori teaches halogen-substituted dinaphthofurandiones (see the entire document).

While Sartori does not teach the elected compound, Sartori teaches 8-chloro-dinaphthofurandione and 11-chloro-dinaphtho-(1,2-b:2',3'-d)furan-7,12-dione, which are position isomers of the elected compounds, and therefore render the elected compounds obvious (see column 6, claims 3 and 5). The compounds are useful as dyes and intermediates (see col. 1, lines 10-16), particularly, disperse dye for polyester (col. 1, lines 40-45).

4. Sartori et al. does not teach expressly a composition comprising the dye compound and a medium herein defined.

5. However, the "medium" herein encompasses broadly common ingredient employed in dye composition, such as alcohols (solvent), particulate phases, plasticizer (filer), other dyes, thickener, preserving agents (see claim 1 herein).

6. Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the claimed the invention was made, to make a dye composition comprising medium meet the limitation herein, particularly, other dyes, polyester particulates. Note it is prima facie obvious to combine two compositions each of which is taught in the prior art to be useful for same purpose in order to form third composition that is to be used for very the same purpose; idea of combining them flows logically from their having been individually taught in prior art; thus, the claimed invention which read on a combination of two dyes sets forth prima facie obvious subject matter. See In re Kerkhoven, 205 USPQ 1069. Further, the recitation "make-up composition" has not been given patentable weight because the recitation occurs in the preamble.

Art Unit: 1617

A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976) and Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478, 481 (CCPA 1951).

Response to the Arguments

Applicants' remarks submitted September 1, 2003 have been fully considered, and are found essentially persuasive. Therefore claims 25-44 are not obvious over prior art. Claim 1 and 3-24 are obvious for reasons as set forth above.
